WAVELAND WANDERINGS

by GEORGETTE B. HALL

Congratulations go this week to all the graduates who have completed either the Eighth Grade or the Twelfth Grade at their respective schools. Among the Waveland students who completed the Eighth Grade at Bay High School are Wallace Bourgeois, Clarine Hayward, Aaron King Brenske, Thomas Mayfield, Jo Ann Saucier, Forrest Bourgeois, Wayne Everage, Barbara Eileen Noonan, Ronald Ferrell, Irene Peirce, James J. Stieffel, Katherine Therese Martin, Kay Frances Morreale, Carol Ann Fayard, Carol Ann Bourgeois, and Alvin J. Ladner, Jr.

Participating in Twelfth Grade exercises at Bay High were Lynne Hall, Ronald Favre, Bette Martin, Patricia Villere, Kenny Stieffel and Dottie Quandt.

Saint Joseph's Academy senior graduation ceremonies included several girls from Waveland: Gaynel Lassasse, Betty Ruhr, Brenda Brechtel, Joan Hubbard, Charlene Miller and Pat Bordages. Edna "Aggie" Bourgeois will take part in the eighth grade program this week.

This column extends best wishes to all those graduates mentioned here and to all those not mentioned. These are happy times for youth and may continued good luck and happiness go with them!

Miss Lynne Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Hall, Jr., and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman, Sr., was the recipient of the American Legion medal at Bay High graduation exercises held in the school gym last Friday night. Lynne now has two of these medals proudly displayed in her room. She was awarded the first medal four years ago when she graduated as valedictorian from the Waveland School. Bill Watts, Jr., of Bay St. Louis who also received the American Legion award, has two now to his credit. Bill was awarded the first medal when he graduated valedictorian from Bay High's Eighth Grade.

Happy birthday greetings to young C. B. Mollere, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Brewster Mollere, who celebrated his seventh birthday on May 21. On the same day Mrs. Olio Mollere celebrated another birthday, and then on May 24, the Olio Mollere family helped pretty little Gail Mollere, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Olio Mollere, celebrate her sixth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheat and son have returned to Jackson after an enjoyable visit with Mr. and Mrs. Roland Weston.

Mrs. Roger Bordages, Mrs. Melvin Villere, and Mrs. A. B. Favre, Sr. spent several days in Birmingham, Alabama, last week where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lawson and young daughter. Mrs. Lawson is the former Barbara Ann Villere, of Waveland.

Coming from Rust, Texas, for the graduation of their granddaughter, Lynne Hall, were Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Hall, Sr., Dr. Mary Elizabeth Hall, of Houston, Texas, also came for the graduation festivities. They returned to their respective homes on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Brockman and daughters of Hattiesburg were guests during the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman, Sr.

Mrs. Frances Grayson of New Orleans and her sons, Dick and Earl, enjoyed a few days in their Waveland home.

Newcomers are welcomed, summer residents and old friends are greeted once more, and the summer begins. Plans are almost completed to give Waveland its own park. Work has begun on Elwood Memorial Park, located on Waveland and Central Avenues, and according to Mayor Garfield Ladner, the park should be completed by June 1. All kinds of equipment will be installed, including picnic tables, benches and barbecue pit. Those of us who knew Elwood Bourgeois, who was killed during World War II, can't think of a nicer gesture on the part of Waveland's City Fathers. We believe Elwood would have appreciated this thoughtfulness in his memory.

An exciting summer is in store for young Matti Rannik, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Rannik, of Clermont Harbor, and Steven Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bartlett, of Waveland. The boys left Monday for New Orleans where they boarded a plane for Miami. After arriving in Miami, they took off again by plane for the Dominican Republic, where they will spend the summer as guests of Matti's relatives. Both boys have traveled extensively both in and out of the United States, but this trip should provide them with many interesting new adventures.

ANNUAL POPPY DAY TO BE HELD SATURDAY, MAY 28

This Saturday, May 28, is the American Legion Auxiliary's Poppy Day.

On this day loyal Americans throughout the country will have an opportunity to wear a poppy, and with us, pause to remember not only those who gave their last full measure of devotion to their country but those who are still suffering the ravages of war.

First and always foremost, the poppy speaks "In Memoriam" of the nation's war dead but of importance, too, is the aid given to the disabled veterans and their families through the funds raised by the sale of poppies and the employment of disabled veterans in making the poppies.

The American Legion Auxiliary appeals to everyone to wear a Poppy on Poppy Day, May 28 in remembrance of America's heroic dead and in helpfulness to her living disabled and dependents.

JAYCEES AWARDED STATE EXTENSION TROPHY AT JACKSON

The Bay St. Louis Jaycees, spirited by their fire engine, the "Spirit of Bay St. Louis," returned from the state convention held in Jackson this past weekend with the State Jaycee Extension Trophy.

This trophy, known as the Jack De Mange, is presented by the State Jaycees to the organization which has sponsored and affiliated according to state records, the largest number of new organizations during the year, and rendered the most assistance in the field of extension based on man-miles traveled. It is a traveling trophy.

The award was one of the five given by the State organization in the Special Awards division; and in making the presentation, it was noted that the State organization was quite proud to present this award to Bay Saint Louis because the Chapter itself was just chartered on January 13, 1960. The local organization was the only new club in the State to receive an award.

Another honor went to the local Jaycees when Ben Woods, Candidate for State President, selected Mike Haas, President of the local, to make his nomination speech for State President. This honor was bestowed on the local club even though it was apparent that Woods would and did win by a large majority.

The fire engine of the local club, "Spirit of Bay Saint Louis," was given a place for display in front of the Heidelberg Hotel where the convention was held. The fire engine was a main attraction in the state parade held on Saturday morning.

The new club also offered a candidate for Area Vice President one of their members, Tom Logue. It is very unusual for a first year club to offer a candidate, but Logue was defeated by only a small margin.

NUMBER ONE KILLER

By E. Kelly, Administrator, Traffic Safety Department,
State of New Mexico

More people are killed on the highways than in any other place. The number of deaths is staggering. In 1959, 10,000 people were killed on the highways in the United States.

God's most precious gift, which no man can create, is life. Only God can give it. It is a precious gift, and it is a gift that we must cherish. We must live our lives in a way that honors God and ourselves.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR BISHOP
R. E. JONES HELD

Funeral services for the late Bishop R. E. Jones of the Methodist Church were held Monday at 2:30 p. m. from the Joseph P. Jones Funeral Home in New Orleans. Religious services were held in the Mount Zion Methodist Church with Bishop Willis J. King, resident bishop, New Orleans Area, and Bishop Edgar A. Love, Baltimore, Md., officiating. Interment was at Gulfside Assembly, Waveland, Miss.

Bishop Jones, 88, died Wednesday, May 18, at 7:40 p. m. in Flint-Goodridge Hospital. Born in Greensboro, N. C., he received his B. A. Degree from Bennett College and his theology training at Gammon Seminary, Atlanta, Ga.

He was ordained in 1893 and the following year was made assistant manager of the Southwestern Christian Advocate. In 1904 he became the publications' editor and held this post until his elevation to the episcopacy in 1920.

Bishop Jones was the first Negro to be elected by the Methodist church as a general superintendent of the whole church.

Founder of the Gulfside Assembly, an institution operated by the Methodist Church for religious, educational and recreational purposes, Bishop Jones also played a major part in the establishment of the reorganized Flint-Goodridge hospital at its present location.

He was active in the interest of Methodist related colleges; was one of the founding trustees of Dillard University and served on the boards of Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark.; Wiley College, Marshall, Texas; Samuel Houston College, Austin, Texas; Rust College, Holly Springs, Miss.; Bennett College and Gammon Theological Seminary.

He retired in 1944 and until that time was a member of many of the church's boards and commissions.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Jones; three daughters, Mrs. Grace Jones, Nashville, Tenn.; and Mrs. Mary Broussard, and Mrs. Catherine Knox, St. Louis, Mo., and two sons, Robert E. Jones, Jr., Greensboro, N. C., and Dr. William McDowell Jones, New Orleans.

MISSISSIPPI HAS CHANCE TO PROFIT BY THIS INDUSTRIAL TREND

The extent to which industry is turning to America's smaller towns and even to the countryside for new plant locations is of great potential significance to Mississippi's industrial development efforts and future job opportunities. This does not mean that big centers have all lost industry since 1950; at the same time, many smaller communities have registered sharp gains in industrial jobs. Generally speaking, Mississippi is rich in natural advantages and industrial development is being geared to get results.

From all indications, Mississippi will have a good chance to obtain a rightful share of new industries.

HELPFUL HINTS IN SPRAYING AND DUSTING
FOR INSECTS

A good idea is to buy special measuring utensils for sprays and dusts. Spray thoroughly—always spray underneath the leaves at the base of a plant or shrub and work upward. Then turn the deflector and spray down. Don't spray in the heat of the day for the best time is in the morning or late afternoon. Don't spray on a windy day as wind makes effective spraying or dusting difficult. For insects, spray or dust after a rain rather than when rain is threatening. For diseases, spray or dust just before a rain. The idea is to prevent; cure is difficult.

LAYMEN TO ATTEND
DISTRICT MEETING

Laymen of Christ Episcopal Church will attend a District meeting at St. John's Church, at Pascagoula, at 6 P. M., May 26. The meeting will be followed by dinner at Holiday Inn. The Rev. Edward Harrison, Rector of St. Andrew Church, Jackson, will be guest speaker.

The Russians and his reluctance to attend such a meeting. The President was faced with the proposition of having to go along with such a meeting in order to prevent Khrushchev from further propagandizing to the effect that America did not desire peace. By the same token, the President was forced to hold his temper and accept the insults heaped upon him and America with a minimum of outward resentment.

To sum it all up in brief, the sabotaging of the Summit Conference which was after all initiated by Mr. Khrushchev, is but another move in the cold war. We know of no responsible person including the President who believes that this means a hot war. We may expect, therefore, a resumption of Mr. Khrushchev's past performances, blowing hot today and cold tomorrow.

Sewing hints: Use clay chalk when you mark wash-and-wear fabrics. Wax chalk is hard to remove from the fabric.

SPRING WINTER CLOTHING

First, be sure the garments are clean. Wash them or have them dry cleaned.

Before washing wool garments or sending them to the dry cleaning laundry, turn out pockets, turn down collars, turn up collars and brush well. Leave cotton and linen garments unstarched.

Ask for a copy of Publication 540, Kill Household Insects, for information on materials to prevent moth damage.

JUDGE YOUR PICTURES

Take a look at the pictures in the rooms of your home. Can you answer "yes" to each of these questions?

1. In each picture placed to help complete a grouping or complement a wall space?

2. Are pictures low enough to form a unit with other furnishings?

3. Are pictures within each room hung to form a fairly even line on the walls?

ROOTING CHRYSANTHEMUM CUTTINGS

Select a tip growth shoot about 3 to 4 inches long. Cut bottom of stem at a slant, just below a node—a place where a leaf is attached to the stem. Remove leaf from lower half of cutting. Put cuttings in pot or bed of sand. Keep sand moist at all times.

When roots form and the top growth is sturdy, set cutting out in good rich garden soil.

It helps to treat the cutting with a root-inducing hormone. You can find this material at seed supply stores.

You can also propagate your mums by dividing the old clump.

ROASTING CORN OUTDOORS

It's too early for corn from the garden, but most grocery stores have corn on their produce counters now. If you're including corn-on-the-cob on the menu for your next outdoor cooking, try roasting the corn this way.

Strip the husks down to the end of the ear, but don't tear them off. Remove the silks and soak the corn in cold salted water for about 30 minutes. Drain and brush corn with butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Pull the husks up around the corn again. Wrap each ear of corn in heavy duty aluminum foil and twist the ends to make a bag.

Roast the corn in hot coals or over a fire. Turn often and roast for about 25 minutes or until done to taste.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS WORK FOR A BETTER WAY OF LIFE

Home Demonstration Clubs have, since their beginning, enhanced the role of Mississippi women in an advancing economy. Home Demonstration work is an educational program in better homemaking. Through this beneficial program, homemakers learn to better use their time, money and energy to reach family goals. In addition to the programs which interest every homemaker—sewing, cooking, home management, gardening and others—club members engage in various other projects of their community life. These projects are being carried on in homes throughout the state.

NATIONAL FOREST SERVICE (MANY BENEFITS TO MISSISSIPPIANS)

The system of national forests in Mississippi has many things to offer the people who use these well-managed woodlands. In even a small tract, there are many benefits. To the lumberman, they mean logs and lumber. To the recreationist, they mean beauty and a place to get away from the pressures of everyday living. To the sportsman, they mean a home and food for the wild game, big and small, and a provider of abundant supplies of water so essential to good fishing. A total of 1,658,956 acres is embraced throughout Mississippi from the Tennessee line to the Gulf River to the Alabama border.

COLD OR HOT WAR?

Now that the much flouted Summit Conference failed, the question naturally arises what is the next move of the Kremlin? Does it mean a hot war, a continuation of the cold war, or is there any hope for eventual peace. Every newspaper and opinion columnist as well as newspaper and radio analysts have been for the last several days attempting to answer these questions. In fact, there is almost as many views as there are viewers. The American people are doing some guessing themselves. We are no exception.

If he really wanted peace and realistically thought that the United States was preparing for hostilities against Russia, he would have been more anxious after the plane incident than ever for a Summit (peace) meeting. The fact that President Eisenhower repeatedly called for some assurances of the desire of the Russians for coming in to grips with the problem of the cold war is indicative of his awareness of the real objectives of it spend itself into bankruptcy.

Was there any basis for a real hope that some equitable and fair agreement would be reached at a Summit Conference? Few people conversant with Russia's attitude believe that Khrushchev would enter into any such fair agreement.

Anything like a fair agreement on Berlin, the unification of Germany, the abandonment of nuclear weapons or any other form of disarmament would not fit in with the Russian dictator's plan of dividing and conquering and destruction of the Western World's form of democratic government. Therefore in spite of the fact that Khrushchev himself was the instigator of the Summit meeting, he never had any idea of going through with it. His advocacy of a Summit meeting was like all of his other so-called PEACE moves. It was purely propaganda. If it had not been for the U-2 plane incident he would have found some other excuse for sabotaging the meeting.

Here...
you'll find a Faith
to live by...

It's quiet inside. Quiet with the peace of centuries, for this is God's House.

Within these walls, the worries which loomed so large outside become less insistent... for the first time perhaps you see them in their true perspective. If this alone were the reward of Faith, it would be enough. But there is more.

Faith is a source of strength, a reservoir of power that helps you meet the needs of every day. By worshiping with your family each week at your church or synagogue, you're giving them a measure of security no amount of money could buy. The Faith to hope... to grow... to live by.

Build a stronger, richer life...
Worship together every week

To Compete Mrs. America

MRS. R. P. STEDMAN

McComb (Special)—A pretty McComb mother of three will wear the laurels of Mississippi, June 2, when she enters competition for the title of Mrs. America at Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Mrs. R. P. Stedman, 33, wife of a McComb hardware dealer, was crowned May 14, as Mrs. Mississippi after competing with other pretty homemakers in the Mrs. Mississippi contest at Biloxi. She will be sponsored by the McComb Chamber of Commerce in the Florida contest.

Mrs. Stedman—Bonnie to her friends—terms herself a typical housewife and mother who's time is devoted to her family. She does her own housekeeping. She likes to cook but she doesn't like to iron. She prepares all her family's meals and does her grocery shopping once a week.

The children are Richard, 8, Susanne, 6, and Tommy 5.

Mrs. Stedman is a member of the Otken Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association, the McComb Garden Club, the Cinema Guild and the First Baptist Church. She's also a former Sunday School teacher and she helps with her son's Club Scout activity.

On top of that, she's a caring, bright-spirited person—just the type to walk away with the Mrs. America honors for Mississippi.

As in the State contest, she'll have to prove her housewifely abilities by baking a cake, preparing a dessert, by styling her hair and by answering innumerable questions about domestic duties.

She will be competing with 50 other state and District of Columbia winners.

Mrs. Stedman and her husband will leave McComb June 1, for Atlanta, where they be honored at a special dinner by Southern Airways.

They will then fly to Jacksonville, Fla., then continue to Fort Lauderdale for two weeks of competition.

Deed of Trust as follows: to-wit: Lots 113 & 114, Square 8, LOG-TOWN MANOR SUBDIVISION, AS PER PLAT ON FILE in the Plat Book 2, Page 11, in the Chancery Clerk's office in Hancock County, Mississippi. Said land being in Hancock County, Mississippi.

"The Gallant Hours" Thursday, June 2 At Legion Theatre, Gulfport

Two of Hollywood's most famous names have combined to bring to the screen the exploits of Admiral William F. Halsey, one of the authentically great naval heroes of World War II. The new and promising independent production company, called Cagney-Montgomery Productions, has filmed "The Gallant Hours," opening at the Legion Theatre Thursday, June 2 through United Artists release.

James Cagney is the star of the picture, playing the role of Admiral Halsey.

Robert Montgomery is producer and director.

"The Gallant Hours" is the story of the fantastic five-week period, from mid-October through mid-November of 1942, on which a handful of army, navy and marine personnel, under the command of "Bull" Halsey, stopped the numerically superior Japanese dead in their tracks and turned the tide of World War II. It is realistic, no-punches-pulled account of modern warfare, from the viewpoint of one of the saltiest and most colorful personalities in the Allied high command.

Supporting Cagney in the starring role are such noted feature players as Dennis Weaver, Richard Carville, Carl Benton Reid, Ward Costello, Robert Burton, Les Tremayne, Raymond Bailey, Walter Sande, Vaughan Taylor and Richard Jaeckel.

Although he has previously directed three successful movies ("Lad in the Lake," "Ride the Pink Horses" and "Eye Witness") Montgomery takes his bow in the dual capacity of producer and director with "The Gallant Hours."

SUPPER FOR SENIOR CLASS AT SJA

A supper for the senior class at St. Joseph Academy was given Tuesday evening at Ray's Restaurant in honor of Martha Carr, Frances Matherne, Joan Hubbard and Delta Jacobi.

White gladioli, chrysanthemums and Queen Anne's lace decorated the tables. Favors, small dolls dressed with cap and gowns holding a miniature diploma, were presented each guest.

Sunday the class was honored with a ship wreck party and barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shannon Coppone in Gulfport. Miniature boats were given as favors.

"The Gazebo" Now At The Bay

Today she's enjoying a new kind of picture. It's a new picture in a new style, a new kind of picture. It's a picture that's different from anything you've ever seen before. It's a picture that's different from anything you've ever seen before.

"No one was less equipped for show business," recalls the young lady who this year rounds out a decade of picture making. "Movies were something I went to on Saturday matinees. Even when I entered a home town talent contest in Burbank at sixteen, it was on a dare and just to win a bathing suit. When I won it by doing an imitation of Betty Hutton, using one of her records, I figured it was a fluke. Pictures for me? What would I do?"

Two years later, she was co-starring with Gene Kelly and Donald O'Connor in Hollywood's hit musical, "Singin' in the Rain," and becoming established as a star for her fresh singing, dancing and acting talents. Recently, she completed her sixteenth starring film, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Gazebo," with Glenn Ford.
